

2021 Winter & Spring ACT Tutoring

Academic Background

Nick is a sophomore at Yale University studying Applied Physics. He obtained a perfect score on the ACT, with a full score on every subsection. He also received perfect scores on the SAT Math II and Physics subject tests.

Teaching Experience

In my junior and senior years of high school, I was the head peer tutor for the Physics department. I am an especially proficient teacher of high school math and have been remarkably successful as a college essay consultant.

Target Students

Rising 10th, 11th, and 12th graders who want to prepare for the ACT

Class Schedule

(Feb-March 2021) Friday, Saturday, and Sunday evenings and mornings, more flexible beginning mid-March

Curriculum

I will provide each of my students with a flexible and highly individualized curriculum with lots of practice material. Through my course, students should develop a strong grasp of the concepts and rules required for success on the ACT. I will help them build familiarity with the test and to effectively implement a personalized strategy that helps them perform as well as possible. We will begin with a practice test before taking a content-based approach, especially to the English and Math sections. After filling holes in the student's knowledge, we will assess and tweak our strategy across the entire ACT, but especially in the reading and science sections. At this point, I will thoughtfully assign new test sections to facilitate targeted practice. Outside of class, my students will be able to contact me via text and email whenever they have questions, and I will be responsive.

Cost

I encourage a FREE ~20' consultation to chat about you, your goals, and how we can achieve them. In case fees pose an unreasonable financial burden on an interested student, I will keep one price-flexible spot open. Please let me know only if you believe you qualify, and we might be able to work something out.

- $120/hr for 5 sessions ($600)
- $110/hr for 10 sessions ($1100)
- $100/hr for 20 sessions ($2000)

Each session is an hour long. Especially short or long-term teaching packages can be discussed on a case-by-case basis.

Philosophy

I believe that standardized tests are a lot like athletic competitions: high schoolers with gold medal aspirations need to optimize their training and attack their weaknesses for a chance to win big. With the drive to improve and the right coach, you can build new strengths and buff old strengths, reach your potential, and maybe even become a champion. I will not guarantee you a perfect score, but I will guarantee improvement or you will get all of your money back. I am a friendly, patient, and passionate teacher, and I want the best for you.
