

2021 Winter & Spring SAT Tutoring

Academic Background

Sabrina is a 2017 graduate of Gunn High School and 2020 graduate at Brown University studying Applied Mathematics – Economics with a 4.0 GPA. She received a perfect score on the SAT.

Teaching Experience

SAT tutor for IvyMax in the summer of 2017. Teaching Assistant for Probability and Statistics at Brown University.

Targeted Students

Rising 10th, 11th, 12th graders looking to prepare for the SAT.

Class Schedule

1 hour time slots on Saturdays and/or Sundays. 10 sessions.

Curriculum

The curriculum will tailor to students' individual strengths and weaknesses. By the end of the course students should see a significant improvement in their test scores and will ideally be ready to take the SAT. We will focus on reading comprehension, writing, grammar, and/ or math depending on the student.

Cost

$120 per hour for 10 private sessions, $70 per hour if student is taking the course with a friend.

Class Philosophy

The SAT is not just a measure of intelligence. It is a test that can be studied for, and, when prepared in effective ways, can be easy to master through tips and practice. Sabrina will teach the inside tricks of how to master the SAT so that students can confidently receive high scores and get into dream colleges. I will guarantee score improvement or students will get their money back.
